GOV. SMITH EXPENDITURES FOR CAMPAIGN REVEALED

Democrat Candidate Questioned by Senate Committee on $41,500 Outlay in California

NEW YORK, May 10. (AP)—Gov. Smith testified today before the special Senate Campaign Funds Committee that he had not turned a hand or spent a dollar to obtain the Democratic Presidential nomination, explaining that he had left the whole matter in the hands of friends, who, it subsequently was disclosed, have contributed $103,310 to his cause, out of which $92,000 has been spent.

These figures were presented to the Senate by George R. Van Name, a member of the New York Public Service Commission, who is directing the campaign on behalf of the Governor. He was questioned closely about the expenditure of $41,500 in California, where Smith recently defeated Senator Reed of Missouri and Walsh of Montana in the preferential Presidential primary.

As to the donations of $20,000 and loans of $20,000 made by Kennedy, Van Name explained that he is a friend of the Governor. He admitted that so far as he knows Kennedy has no contracts for State work; that most of his work was done for the city of New York.

Gov. Smith was on the stand for the first time in the hearing, which was conducted in a rather small room in the Commodore Hotel, the Governor leaned back in his chair, resting his right hand on the table, holding a cigarette in his right hand.

Gov. Smith assured the Senators that he has no intention of conducting any campaign; knows of no arrangements for taking care of the State after the election, and has made no promises of patronage in return for support of his candidacy.

Gov. Smith's testimony was interrupted by a long and heated discussion of the Governor's campaign expenditures. The discussion was led by Senator Charles McNary, who accused the Governor of using public funds for his private campaign.

PEACE PLAN WELCOMED

Britain Desires to Co-operate

Government Attitude on Pact to Ban War Announced by Chamberlain

New Treaties With Berlin and Rome Approved by Senators

LONDON, May 10. (AP)—Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, announced today that the British government desires to co-operate with the American government in outlawing war. He was speaking on the Kellogg proposal.

A similar welcome to the American move to achieve world peace was voiced by Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the Labor opposition, who introduced the subject.

Mr. Chamberlain said he will proceed in the ordinary diplomatic channels in treating the proposals, although at first he had favored submitting the matter to a conference of international jurists, as in the case of the Locarno pact. This idea was dropped, however, he explained, when "one of the governments concerned" understood that the United States indicated that it did not approve of this method.

DOMINIONS CONSULTED

The British empire, the Foreign Secretary continued, already has been forwarded to the governments of the dominions in order that all elements of the empire may seek a common position toward the proposal. He expects to transmit the reply to Secretary Kellogg soon after the responses of the dominions are received.

Mr. Chamberlain was heard with profound interest by the whole chamber. The only sign of disapproval was voiced by one member who said that war never had been used as an international policy by any British government since the present era. Here the Labor benches burst into protest, but the Secretary maintained his position.

MACDONALD COMMENT
Ramsay MacDonald said that his first reaction was that the proposal was ridiculous. In view of the common sense of the problem and the simplicity of the Kellogg scheme. Later he was convinced that the plan was bound to be a forward step in the battle for peace.

SMITH FUND FOR RACE DISCLOSED

and knows of no arrangement or agreement whereby his own delegates might shift to another candidate or the delegates of other candidates might throw their support to him in the forthcoming month in the Democratic convention.

"When I was inaugurated I promised the people of this state that I would be at home and attend to their affairs," the Governor said, "and, believe me, that takes every minute of my time."

Smith added that he has not been outside of the State during the campaign except to take a much-needed vacation in North Carolina.

"That had no political significance," he said, "but I believe I am doing about every body in the State. That is, except Senator Simmons."

The crowd laughed at this reference to the Democratic leader of North Carolina, who is vigorously opposed to Smith's candidacy.

UP TO FRIENDS

"So far as financial assistance of contributions to your campaign are concerned, you know nothing about them," inquired Senator McDonald.

"Nothing whatever," Smith replied.

"Then your campaign is left in the hands of your friends?"

"That's right," was the reply. "I haven't done a single thing about this campaign, even in my own State," the Governor stated at another point in the hearing.

Van Namee presented a detailed statement of receipts and expenditures, stating that besides the money sent to California to finance the primary campaign there, $1200 had been sent to William F. Quinn of Dickinson, N. D.; $1000 to Daniel Cony of Augusta, Me.; $5000 to Joseph F. Huggery, national committeeman for Pennsylvania; and $750 to Charles H. McGuire, chairman of the Democratic State Committee of Massachusetts, for use in primaries in that State.

FUND IN WEST

In addition, $7000 was sent to Fred W. Johnson of Rock Springs, Wyo., for traveling expenses, distribution of literature and other publicity in the States of Utah, Wyoming, Nevada, New Mexico, Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho. He added that no money had been sent to any of the southern or border States and that nothing had been spent in Oklahoma, Idaho, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and the New England States, except in Massachusetts and Maine.

Of the $41,500 that was sent to California, $3500 was returned, he said. Questioned by committee men, he said that between $2000 and $2500 was raised locally in California for the primary campaign there.

Van Namee was emphatic in his denunciation of the Ku Klux Klan, the Anti-Saloon League and similar Catholic organizations for sending out what he called "scurrilous" attacks upon Gov. Smith and explained that his organization has given several thousand dollars in sending out utterances of the Governor "refuting" those attacks.

GLAD TO EXPLAIN

"Such things make a man indignant," Van Namee said. "Well, you are not resentful of the opportunity to explain this matter?" inquired Chairman Steiner.

HOOVER PICKED BY WESTERNERS

Robinson and Requa Express Confidence

Expect His Nomination on Early Ballot

Indiana Result No Factor in Outcome

INDIANAPOLIS, May 10. (AP)—Complete unofficial returns from the 3619 precincts in Indiana in Tuesday's primary give the following vote for the Republican Presidential preference race between Senator James E. Watson and Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover: Watson, 230,229; Hoover, 284,814.

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG

"Times" Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, May 10. (Exclusive)—President Henry M. Robinson of the First National Bank of Los Angeles and one of the leading Hoover delegates to Washington today had a brief conference with Secretary Hoover and reported that everything is exceedingly favorable to his nomination in the West. He attended the meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce but declined to say more than that he expects to see Herbert Hoover nominated next June at Kansas City and elected by a tremendous popular vote next November.

Mark L. Requa of San Francisco, who has been actively working for the nomination of Hoover will return either tonight or tomorrow to California to make final arrangements in connection with the formal delegation before it moves on to Kansas City early in June. He is convinced that Hoover will be nominated on an early ballot. He is convinced that the Hoover vote in Indiana shows Hoover to be a great vote getter and with a few more weeks of hard work would have received a tremendous vote against a favorite son who had very precinct covered with his followers. He points out that a change of 15,000 votes would have given the Indiana delegates to Hoover and hopes that when Watson falls they will all go to Hoover.

HOOVER STILL LEADS

As the dust of the Indiana primary settles it does not appear that the situation has materially changed in the race for the Republican nomination. The Hoover leaders say. As before the primary in Hoosierdom, Hoover is the leading candidate. He lost the thirty-three Indiana delegates to Watson, but it is true, but he did not have them before the primary. Had he won in the primary his nomination would not be conceded by many who still feel that he eventually will be checked.

The final returns will give Watson a lead not in excess of 50,000 votes, a change of 15,000 votes would have made Hoover the victor in Indiana. The returns show that Mr. Hoover polled around 200,000 votes and Senator Watson about 225,000. This is a vast difference from that claimed by anti-Hooverites before the primary, when they claimed a Watson victory of 100,000 to 150,000 majority.

Secretary Hoover is slated to pick up thirty-one delegates in New Jersey, where the Presidential primary is to be held next Tuesday. Except in one or two districts, there has been no effort by other candidates to measure strength with Mr. Hoover in New Jersey. A section of strength to a list of delegates already long is likely to give the Hoover boom further impetus.

MELON ATTITUDE

Secretary Mellon of the Treasury announced today that he will attend the caucus of delegates elected recently by Pennsylvania to the Republican National Convention. The caucus is to be held Saturday in Philadelphia. It is expected that Mellon will be elected chairman of the delegation and as such will cast the vote of the delegation in the national convention. Not a little interest centers in what Mr. Mellon may or may not say in Philadelphia. There is to be a real contest of delegates there and it is not unlikely that the preferences of the delegates will be freely discussed.

Mellon's preferences have been for the re-nomination of President Coolidge. When he became convinced that the President had taken his leave of the office, the Secretary of the Treasury spoke in glowing terms of former Secretary of State Hughes. But Mr. Hughes has declined to run for a second term. Mellon's necessity of favoring one of the candidates now in the race. He has said nothing so far about his own preference.

There has been nothing to indicate that he will favor the McNary-Hauger farm relief bill which has been the main issue of the opponents of Mr. Hoover.

Senator David A. Reed or W. L. Mellon, now chairman of the State Republican committee, will be named as the Pennsylvania member of the Republican National Committee to succeed former Senator Pepper.

CALLS DRY VICTORY

The Anti-Saloon League interprets the Indiana primary results as a definite victory for the dry cause. F. Scott McBride, general superintendent in a formal statement says it is folly to assume that there has been a reaction against prohibition and that the Indiana primary so demonstrates. He adds that the result in the Hoosier State also shows "the futility of any effort to elect a President who is wet."

McBride asserts that the defeat of Arthur L. Gilliom, candidate for the United States Senate, "was a vote of confidence in the Anti-Saloon League." He adds that the wet press, headed by the Chicago Tribune, went to extreme lengths to discredit the dry organization, with Atty.-Gen. Gilliom leading the attack.

"The returns on members of Congress and the State Legislature indicate that there will be no loss of dry strength in the State and national law-making bodies," he said.

COUNTRY'S LARGEST WHEAT GROWER IS FOR HOOVER

HARDIN (Mont.) May 10. (Exclusive)—Indorsement of the Presidential candidacy of Secretary of Commerce Hoover was given here today by one of the nation's best-known farm leaders, Thomas D. Campbell, largest grower of wheat in the United States.

Herbert Hoover

The Secretary of Commerce, in the opinion of Campbell, is the best-informed man in the country on agricultural problems and, if elected President, will give the farmers something more substantial than promises in the effort to solve the farm problem.

Mr. Campbell's statement follows:
I am for Herbert Hoover for President because I think he is the most qualified man for that position in the United States. His record as a statesman and a diplomat is well established. At home and abroad his ability as an organizer and a business man is recognized everywhere and, in spite of considerable propaganda to the contrary, I know he has been a real friend of the American farmer during his entire public career; not the type of friend who has made attractive promises based on unsound economic conditions, but the thinking friend who has made wise decisions in a spirit of fairness to all. I feel that today he is the best-informed man on the great economic problem of agriculture we have in the United States and, if elected President, will contribute more to the solution of this national problem than has been done in many years.

There are more people in the United States of all classes and in more different businesses and enterprises who want Mr. Hoover for President than any other man. If the delegates at our National Republican Convention fail to nominate Mr. Hoover and, if nominated, we as citizens fail to elect him, we will lose an opportunity to express our rights of citizenship as voters and our appreciation of a great American citizen.

Clubmen and Wives Urged by ex-National Director to Nonsectarian Voting

SACRAMENTO, May 10. (AP)—Edward F. Flynn of St. Paul told 4000 Rotarians and their wives here today that if they propose to vote against a man because of his religion they are not Rotarians if they speak with religious prejudice. He urged them to read again and again the First Amendment to the Constitution which safeguards religious liberty.

Flynn, who represents the railroad and transportation industries in his home club and is a past director of Rotary International, urged the organization to fight singly and unitedly all corrupt business practices and said he thinks the motto "the profits most who serve best" is a misleading one because in his opinion Rotarians should not seek material profit through their association and their service.

Other speakers this afternoon were Raymond M. Havens of Kansas City and Max Horwinski of Oakland. A high light in tomorrow's program will be a meeting of the Rotary Club of Menckenville, Lewis county, Americans by the Palo Alto Club.

ment. In the 1927 act, the minimum was reduced to five years. The retroactive feature of it affected Mrs. Phillips under previous law she would have been eligible next month, because she was released at San Quentin on June 2, 1925, and her five-year minimum will have been served by June 2, 1928.

Deputy Wetmore ruled against the claim on the ground that it usurps the executive clemency which rests only with the Governor of the State.

EFFECT OF COMMUTING

Were it held legal, he said, it would "have the effect of commuting the sentence of a prisoner." "I am constrained to advise you," he wrote in the communication which will go to the prison board, "that your board cannot legally proceed to set a definite time, according to the provisions of Section 1168 of the Penal Code, of prisoners who have been committed for the crime of murder in the second degree, prior to the new law of 1927, and who have served five calendar years, but who have not yet served the minimum sentence provided by law in their respective cases."

The statute in question, he added, serves to usurp the Governor's prerogative of executive clemency "by way of mitigation of punishment."

Had it not been for the opinion, Mrs. Phillips would have been before the prison board automatically at the June meeting, according to a previous explanation of procedure by Chairman Neumiller. Now, consideration of a parole appears to rest on the action which she herself may take.

CONFLICT EXPLAINED BY JAPANESE AMBASSADOR

CLEVELAND, May 10. Protesting that Japan has been forced into the emergency of protecting its Nationals in war-torn Chinese territory, the Ambassador said it was a cause of real regret that he had to bring the matter of these disturbances before an organization meeting in the interest of peace.

Mr. Matsudaira told the delegates of the American peace society, which is sponsoring the conference, that Japan longs only for harmony with other nations that she may be free to develop her resources.

"It is to be regretted that very recently the Province of Shantung in China has become the scene of serious disturbances affecting the lives and property of Japanese residents," he said. "In view of the fact that there are about 17,000 Japanese subjects in that Province, Japan has found it necessary to dispatch troops for their protection."

"In taking this action Japan has had no intention of interfering in the domestic affairs of China and has no other motive than to give the protection afforded to her Nationals."

"I am happy to assure you that the Japanese forces now there will be evacuated as soon as order is restored and there ceases to be any danger to the lives and property of Japanese residents in that locality."

Father Says Daughter and Horse-Trainer Threatens Legal 'Kidnaping'

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10. (Exclusive)—That cupid has been routed after three years of matrimonial equestrianism, led today to the first discussion of a divorce suit by a mysterious six-day disappearance of Walter H. Linforth, prominent local attorney and the father of Mrs. Threlkeld, who previously had exerted various influences to keep the matter from becoming public knowledge, voluntarily ripped the veil off the marital discord of his daughter and the latter's husband, William Stephen Threlkeld, formerly a trainer of horses for Irving H. Bellman of Los Angeles.

Linforth threatened an investigation and possible summary action against two women who accompanied his daughter south and prevailed upon police to interrogate a man known here as a Hindu philosopher, who is accused by Linforth of a part in the disappearance of his daughter.

Linforth arrived from Los Angeles this morning, whether he had gone in search of his missing daughter only to have her pass him by, or bound during the night on another train returning to San Francisco.

"I am sure my daughter's departure was caused by these two women," he stated, referring to Mrs. Hazel Hawksworth and the latter's daughter, Miss Gale Wellington, reported to have accompanied her to Nogales. "My investigation is not ended yet. I am going to question these two women about the whole matter and find out what their interest is. If their answers do not satisfy, I will take determined action."

Another matter needing investigation, he stated, is the acquaintance of his daughter with Manuel Antikaris, known as a Hindu lecturer and teacher, but who told police he is a Persian. He was questioned by Chief of Detectives Matheson. Matheson admitted, Detective Matheson announced, that Mrs. Threlkeld had been brought to him by Mrs. Hawksworth.

Charges Filed Against Two and Action Awaits Result of Present Trial

Methodist Churches Abroad May Get More Authority; Unity to be Studied

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) May 10. (Exclusive)—The trial of Bishop Anton Bast with all its ramifications affecting vital issues in the Methodist church became increasingly apparent today when it was learned charges have been placed with Dr. R. F. Wade, secretary of the conference, against two other bishops, to be pressed pursuant to the decision in the Bast case.

The delegates who filed the papers explained he desires them to be on the official record in case developments justify action and since last night was the deadline for the filing of memorials in the present conference, he observes the necessary precaution.

The bishops named are Edgar Blake of Paris and John L. Nielson of Zurich, Switzerland. They are accused of having withheld all the truth as to the Bast charges and criminal trial in Copenhagen, where he was found guilty of fraudulent appropriation of funds and served three months in prison. In his reports to America, printed in the official Methodist Advocate, for all church members to read, these bishops withheld part of the facts and misrepresented others in the effort to "whitewash" their conduct, it is charged.

SACRAMENTO, May 10. ## Quest of White Indians Fails

NEW YORK, May 10. (AP)—A nine months' quest in Brazil for a reputed tribe of "white" Indians resulted in the discovery of one lone light-complexioned Indian who was so ill with malaria that no satisfactory study of his origin could be made. Dr. Herbert Spencer Dickey, head of the Dickey-Pathe ethnological expedition, reported on his arrival on the Munson liner American Legion.

Dr. Dickey said he had been told, however, of a tribe of seventy "white" Indians supposed to live on the Padana River, an affluent of the Orinoco, but said he had been unable to reach them. He was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Dickey and Harold Noto, photographer.

TAX LINES HELD BY REPUBLICANS

Democrats Fail in Fight for $325,000,000 Slash

Senate Restores Measures Repealed by House

Simmons Beaten in Vote on Capital Stock Levy

WASHINGTON, May 10. (AP)—Republicans held their lines through another skirmish against the $325,000,000 tax-reduction plan in the Senate today as Democrats sought unsuccessfully to increase the reductions along lines of their $325,000,000 program.

As a result the Senate restored to the revenue bill the tax on sales on produce exchanges, which the House had repealed, and also restored the full rate on the tax on sales or transfers of capital stock.

Democratic ranks broke on the vote, although on the first proposal no record vote was taken. In restoring the rate of 2 cents for the tax on each $100 sales or transfer of capital stock, the vote was 48 to 29.

SIMMONS DEFEATED AGAIN

Finally, Senator Simmons of North Carolina, who is leading the Democratic fight, proposed repeal of the tax on issues of capital stock, amounting to 5 cents on each $100 and he was defeated again, 43 to 34. Several Democrats bolted on this vote to join the Republicans in retaining the levy.

Progress during the day, however, left leaders dubious over the prospects of completing action on the bill this week and some frankly declared that at the rate of yesterday and today another week will be required to reach a vote, leaving only a few days before adjournment for settlement of differences with the House.

AMENDMENT DEFEATED

More than three hours were consumed today in the attempt of Caraway, Democrat, of Arkansas, to increase the tax on sales on produce exchanges from 1 cent to 30 cents on each transaction. This revived the argument which went on for three hours yesterday and brought a charge of Senator Randall, Democrat, of Louisiana, that the tax proposal would put out of business all cotton and grain exchanges.

The amendment was defeated, 47 to 34. Caraway said his fight was against the "gamblers," declaring there was no reason why they should be treated differently from the profits on produce sales. The contest was a prelude to his contest for adoption of his bill proposing to prevent futures sales in cotton and grain.

While the entire day was spent in considering taxes involving only a few million dollars, Chairman Crampton of the Finance Committee expects tomorrow to take up the higher rate schedules.

TYSON ARMY BILL FACES VOTE TODAY

Measure to Allow War Emergency Officers to be Retired Nears Showdown

WASHINGTON, May 10. (Exclusive)—Representative Evans of California today introduced a bill making emergency army officers who incurred physical disabilities during their World War service eligible for retirement was brought to the House floor today.

A final vote on the measure will be had early tomorrow afternoon when the five hours allotted for general debate will be exhausted.

The bill, which has been endorsed by the American Legion and virtually every other ex-service organization in the country, was passed by the Senate earlier in the session. Under its terms emergency officers who incurred permanent disability amounting to 50 per cent or more would be eligible for retirement with an allowance equal to 75 per cent of the pay received at the time of their discharge from active service.

Evans Urges Bank Tax Bill

REDISTRICTING PLEAS OFFERED

Crail and Evans Appeal to House Committee

Southland Condition Held to be Intolerable

California to Gain Seats by Any Plan Adopted

WASHINGTON, May 10. (Exclusive)—Representatives Crail of Los Angeles and Evans of Glendale were among a half dozen Congressmen who appeared before the House Rules Committee today urging a rule for consideration of reapportionment legislation. They stressed the inadequate representation given Los Angeles county and Southern California under present conditions, pointing out to the committee that the two of them represent more constituents than the entire Iowa delegation of eleven House members.

"Conditions are becoming well nigh intolerable," declared Evans, who said that Southern California does not care what basis of reapportionment is adopted, for it will gain representation under any system. Asked by Representative Ramseyer of Iowa, a member of the committee, if he could give assurance that the California Legislature would redistrict the State if Congress passed a reapportionment bill, Crail replied he could not, as the Legislature refused to take such action last year as required under the State Constitution. He declared an amendment should be inserted making redistricting by a commission composed of the Governor, Secretary of State and Attorney General of each State automatic if the Legislature fails to act.

New Cotton Bill Offered Senate

WASHINGTON, May 10. (AP)—A bill aiming to correct conditions in cotton market trading was introduced today by Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, on the basis of the long inquiry conducted by the Senate into the breaking cotton market last fall.

The bill provides that cotton delivered on each contract must be delivered in its entirety in one storage place, that the buyer of the contract must be given ten days' notice by the seller of intention to deliver and must state at the same time notice is given the grade and staple of the cotton to be delivered. The bill provides for southern delivery.

ANTI-BOULDER FORCES TO ACT

Group Plans Call Today on House Leaders

Taking Up of River Measure on Floor Fought

Seventy Reported Ready to Sign Petition

WASHINGTON, May 10. (Exclusive)—Anti-Boulder dam forces in the House were organizing today for a group visit to the Speaker's office tomorrow to lay before Speaker Longworth, Republican Floor Leader, and other leaders, their objections to having the Swing-Johnson bill taken up on the floor.

The move is designed to counteract the effect of the delegation call on the Speaker and floor leader made Tuesday by Representative Swing of California and about thirty proponents of the legislation.

Representative Douglas of Arizona, who is engineering the latest maneuver, expects to lay before Speaker Longworth and Tilson a petition signed by other members of the House opposed to passage of the Swing-Johnson bill.

Such a petition was put in circulation today. The first signer was Representative Clark of New York. Douglas said he has the names of more than seventy Congressmen who are sufficiently interested in defeating the legislation to sign the paper and declared he will get the signatures of all of them if time suffices.

The California delegation held another meeting today but discussed Boulder dam only incidentally. Representative Swing reminded his colleagues that each is to bring all possible pressure on the Rules Committee.

Following up his appearance before the Federal Trade Commission yesterday to demand that that body investigate the activities and expenditures of the Los Angeles Boulder dam lobby, Representative Douglas today sent a letter to Judge Humphries, commission chairman, asking for permission to reappear to argue the point of whether the commission has jurisdiction to make such an inquiry.

Whorn Drops to Fourth in Title Tournament

SWINCH (Eng.) May 10. (AP)—The Americans marched to the British open golf championship today, and at the halfway mark four of the first five players were from South and North America.

The best of the British and Irish for their title is a tie for fourth place.

Joe Judo, the diminutive Argentine who seems fairly to throw his body at a golf ball, enters the second round.

Just as he did the qualifying rounds, the little Argentine was today reeled off a 71, and assumed command of the mid-day situation with a score of 145.

Two strokes in front of the Argentine was Walter Hagen, for second place with scores of 72 and 73.

Hagen's previous 73 with 73, Melhorn and Archie Compston tied for fourth place with scores of 148.

Hitting the High Spots With the Bunioneers in C. G. Pyle's Foot Derby

JOHN SALO WINNER OF DERBY LAP

Passaic Runner First to Reach Wauson on Cross-Country Hop

WAUSEON (O.) May 10. (P.)—John Salo, Passaic (N. J.) third-place man in the transcontinental foot race, paced his sixty rivals into this control today, traversing the 44.9 miles from Butler, Ind., in 5:50:39. His elapsed time for 263.6 miles was 48:53:22.

SOME great tales have been unfolded about the long-windedness of Mr. James J. Dougherty, the good Baron of Leiper-ville. It has been said of him that he can talk longer without a stop than a camel can wait for a drink, that he has sent so many lengthy telegrams he almost owns the Western Union, that without him as a customer the long-distance telephone companies would have to quit business and that as a broadcaster of his fighters' qualifications he is without a peer in the exclusive circle of the cauliflower managers' union.

Repeating his performance of a year ago, George Von Elm tucked away medal honors in the Southern California amateur championship race at the Lakeside Country Club yesterday, coming home with a 72, two over par which, with his 75 of Wednesday, gave him an aggregate of 147 for the thirty-six-hole grind.

ARMSTRONG HAS 76
Charles Seaver, brilliant Los Angeles Country Club youngster who flashed into the lead at the end of eighteen holes with a 74, finished with an 80 yesterday to qualify him in fourth place with 152. J. L. Pappin, J. M. Read and Allen Moser had 153's. Moser had a 75 yesterday and should be one of the leading youngsters in the match play which starts today.

PITTSBURGH, May 10. (AP)—The Giants bunched hits off Ray Kremer early in today's game for five runs, and defeated the Pirates, 5 to 4. The victory was the second for the Giants in the three games thus far played in the series, and made the New York team's position in the lead more secure.

Pittsburgh scattered the Pirates' nine blows, and pulled successfully through Pittsburgh rallies in the last two innings with a net damage of only one run. Kremer was in trouble almost from the start and finally gave way to Russell in the fourth.

Victory in the eighth and only by some slight pitch was Shellenback able to keep the visitors away from the plate. After Knight had fanned, the Wolfers singled to start the excitement. "Chick" Elsworth then singled a double down the right-field line and Wolfers ambled to third. With men on second and third and only one out, it looked like a cinch for the Indians to score. However, Johnny Kerr took the plate to trap Wolfers between third and home. He was eventually run out. Elsworth taking third and Kerr during the process. Shellenback then retired John Jacob, a tough home run on the plate, on a fly to the Indians gathered in and the Indians' threat was ended.

Hollywood got to Knight for the lone run of the contest in the fourth inning, and after two were out, Babe Twombly singled to center to give the home guards a hope and then rammed all the way around the bases when Mickey Heath closed a towering double off the center field fence. That over apparently upset Knight, for he then walked Wern and Bessler to fill the bases. Shellenback, back again tough in the pitcher's box, struck out three ineffectual whiffs at Knight's stonings and the Stars' rally was over.

The second game was an ignominious exhibition of just how the national pastime should not be played. Both sides made four errors and the Stars took advantage of the Stars' mistakes by mixing 'em with hits and walks to pile up a lop-sided score.

Indian HURLES CHASED

Kyle Graham, Andy Hove and Chick Vance, the three stars of the Indians and all three of them were given quite a cuffing by the shooting Stars. The Stars scored at least once in every inning and scored in the contest in the first two rounds with a pair of three-run spurges.

In the meantime Kinner was taking things easy, dealing along to his fourth straight victory. The big southpaw's punning knucklers kept the Indians in the background all the way and after five hits were registered off his delivery, Kinner's single and Muller's double in the fourth produced the lone Senators score.

The Stars got busy on Graham in the opening inning, Lee leading off with a single and scoring to third on Kerr's double center. A walk to McNulty filled the sacks, but Graham fanned Arlie Tarbert, who was making his first appearance at the plate. Graham's error, however, Bessler came through with a single over center and Lee and Kerr tallied.

When Graham walked Heath to fill the bases, Manager Middleton decided that was enough and he sent in Hove to try his luck. Hove promptly walked Wern and Muller's double in the third round of the round. Again fanned and Kinner aided to end the excitement for the home team.

Hove was chased in the second when the Stars put on another little three-run rally. A walk to Lee, singles by Kerr and McNulty, Tarbert's error, carried the big bludgeoner to the plate. Hove produced the second Hollywood trio of tallies. Hove's error, however, Bessler came through with a single over center and Lee and Kerr tallied.

Boys' Baseball
Tourney Entry
List to Close

With only thirty junior baseball teams entered from the city of Los Angeles, Bert C. Mann, state chairman of the American Legion's junior baseball campaign, has set tomorrow as the final day for registration for boys who want to get into the elimination tournaments to be conducted during the next two months by the Legion posts in California.

Boys between 13 and 18 years of age, who will not reach their seventeenth birthday prior to January 1, 1930, are eligible for registration and a place on the teams. The hours set for registration are from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. and after tomorrow the only chance a boy has to get on one of the teams will be through one of the Legion posts in the city. All teams will be under the supervision of the American Legion. Boys will register at Patriotic Hall, 1210 S. Figueroa street.

The play is not indoor baseball, but the national pastime as played by the Coast League teams and some of the games will be staged on the same diamonds as the regular league teams use. Each team will be limited to fourteen players and no substitutes or replacements will be allowed after a team has started play unless a player is disabled, and then only through Mann, state chairman.

Elimination games are taking place at the present time on the city playgrounds under supervision of the playground directors. Winning teams in each section of the city will then be taken over by a Legion post and entered in the district, area, state and national championship games with a junior world's series to be played late in the summer.

The winning team in the junior world's series will be taken to the east and travel with the two major league teams playing the big world's series games with all expenses paid. They will be presented with a pennant by Baseball Commissioner Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis and have their own special trainers and coaches traveling with them as guests of the American Legion.

HAGEN SAYS JURADO WILL BE HARD MAN TO DEFEAT

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE TIMES AND THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER ALLIANCE.)

BY WALTER HAGEN

American Professional Golf Champion

SANDWICH (Arg.) May 10.—Some one arose to remark at tea time today that this British open championship at Sandwich has developed into the championship of North and South America.

There are three of us from North America in the first five and one from South America. The fifth man in my Moor Park playmate, Archie Compston, the British player.

I had tea with Jose Jurado, and the critics who have been saying the little fellow from Buenos Aires can't stick are wrong. I think Jose is going to be hard to pass in the home stretch.

HAGEN SATISFIED

I am satisfied with my position in the field and feel I have a good chance to win. But I think two very fine rounds will be required to do it. Jurado played by far the best golf seen since Monday. His four rounds, two qualifying and two in the championship, total 289. That's a great score here. George Dunlap can say that anyone who breaks 300 in the championship play will But I guarantee he will not stand on win the title. But I look for three the sidelines and wave us through.

HAN CONFIDENCE

The Argentine has confidence in himself. He went to an officer of his golf club in Buenos Aires, said he was playing well and believed he never would have a better chance to win the British open. It was upon this expression of confidence that his club sent him to Sandwich. We North Americans may beat him. But I guarantee he will not stand on win the title. But I look for three the sidelines and wave us through.

FUGAZY HAS TEX STYL

BY JACK FARRELL

NEW YORK, May 10.—Tex Rickard has no chance of holding Tommy Loughran, world's light-heavyweight champion, to that optional agreement he signed several months ago. If Tex chooses to take the matter into court, best legal minds hold, he will lose his case there on a technicality.

The technicality, according to expert legal opinion, is that Rickard made the mistake of permitting Jess McMahon, his matchmaker, to affix his signature to the piece of paper which Rickard contends is a valid document.

One of the Rickard-McMahon contracts, which says any signature of the champion would be a threat to the world title, would be a rival to the Rickard-McMahon contract, which says any signature of the champion would be a threat to the world title.

JUDGE SANBORN DIES SUDDENLY

Veteran of Federal Courts
Passes at Eighty-two

End Comes in His Apartment
in Minnesota Capital

Career of Thirty-six Years
on Bench Closes

ST. PAUL, May 10. (P)—Judge Walter Henry Sanborn of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals died suddenly in his apartment here today.

He was 82 years of age and had served on the bench of the Federal courts for more than thirty-six years. When he reached the age for retirement he declared he was "too busy to consider growing old through inactivity."

During his service on the bench Judge Sanborn wrote more than 1200 decisions and opinions, many of which have become fundamental law. It is said that more important litigation came before his court than that of any other circuit.

Judge Sanborn was appointed a United States Circuit Judge in the Judicial District March 17, 1892. He moved up to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals and had been presiding judge of that tribunal since June 3, 1902.

In his personal work he included the administration under receivership or reorganization of the Northern Pacific, Union Pacific, Chicago Great Western, St. Louis and San Francisco and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroads.

Judge Sanborn was born at Exeter, N. H., October 19, 1846. For three years after his graduation from Dartmouth College he was principal of the high school at Milford, N. H. In 1870 he went to St. Paul, where he practiced law with his uncle, Gen. John B. Sanborn, until his appointment to the bench in 1892.

Meanwhile, he had become interested in politics in St. Paul and served several terms in the City Council. He was Grand Commander of the Knights Templar of Minnesota in 1888.

RUM-TIGHT LID RULES CHICAGO

Chief Rides "Reform Wave" to Close Town

Night Life Sparklers Must Obey Curfew

Restaurant Subterfuge to be Ignored

CHICAGO, May 10. (Exclusive)—All cabarets, night clubs, "soft-drink" parlors and other sparklers of the night life are to close at 1 a.m., it was ordered today. Chief Hughes, back from a vacation at Excelsior Springs, issued the lid ultimatum, and he says he means it.

In addition to the drive on all-night operations, the Chief instructed his deputy commissioners to begin a drive on beer flats, vice dens and gambling places.

The consensus in the police department is that the commissioner is riding the reform wave that began with the April primary election.

"If the town wants reform we'll give it reform," is the department's attitude.

Commissioner Hughes ordered that the old 1 o'clock closing law be rigidly enforced on all soft-drink parlors, cabarets and night clubs.

COMBINE RAISES PRICE OF LIQUOR

Half-Billion-Dollar Merger Made in Canada

Cost Increased to Runners and Credit Banned

Low Exporters' Profits Given as Inducing Combine

TORONTO (Ont.) May 10. (Exclusive)—Liquor is due for a jump in dry United States. Today a $500,000,000 merger of liquor exporting houses was announced.

The first step of the new liquor ring will be to jump the price $1 to $2 a case. The new company, capitalized at $500,000,000, became operative today at Windsor. It will extend its operations all along the Ontario border and as a first step will end the price-cutting war that has been in effect ever since the customs inquiry put a damper on wholesale operations last summer.

United States run-runners will not only have to pay more for their liquor, but will have to pay cash. The day of credit to run-runners is over, officials of the new Distillers' Export Corporation of Canada, Ltd., announced this afternoon.

COMPANIES IN COMBINE

Companies which have taken joint action in merging their export activities are: Hiram Walker & Co., Ltd., of Walkerville; Gooderham and Worts Company, of Toronto; Seagram's Distilleries, Waterloo, Ont.; National Distilleries, Ltd., Lachine, Quebec; and Brown & Caldwell Distillery Corporation, Montreal. The only distilleries which will operate independently on the export trade in the future are: Consolidated Distillers' Corporation of Belleville, Ont.; British Columbia Distilleries, Vancouver, B. C.

The ring was brought about as the result of large losses by most of the companies since the Mexico Export Corporation, a similar organization, went out of business a year ago on the eve of the Customs Commission's Windsor siting. Officers of the company, their books and their employees were the object of a fruitless search when the company dissolved at that time.

PROFITS FORCED DOWN
It was learned today that profits by the exporters and agents of the distilleries dropped as low as 50 cents a case during the last year. Several large exporters were reported to have gone into liquidation as a result of "squeezing" methods adopted by stronger organizations.

The greatest price-cutting war in the history of the liquor business between the docks on the Canadian side has been in progress since that time, with the result that keen competition cut into the profits to such an extent that few if any of the docks were making money.

Plans for operation of the new organization are being kept secret but it was intimated by one of the exporters that instead of twenty to thirty liquor docks being operated in the future, only one large central warehouse is to be used in each of the ports.

HOTELS OUTGROW Supply of Bibles
CHICAGO, May 10. (Exclusive)—Great hotels are being erected with such rapidity in American and Canadian cities that the Gideon Society, which places Bibles in hotel rooms, is unable to keep pace with the construction and has issued a call for help.

In the last two years hotels have sprung up so fast that the society now is 1,000,000 rooms behind. To remedy this situation a conference of the society has been called for Friday, to add 250 members and to formulate plans to obtain and place the wanted 1,000,000 Bibles.

HUNDREDS FIGHT FIRES
ST. PAUL, May 10. (AP)—Six hundred men are fighting brush and grass fires in the western part of the Northern Minnesota forest and the State Forester's office reported today.

VOLIVA FACES McPHERSONISM

Local Evangelist to Invade Absent Lender's Colony of Zion City

CHICAGO, May 10. (Exclusive)—While Wilbur Glenn Voliva is somewhere abroad, presumably satisfying himself that the earth is flat and set up on four poles, one at each corner, as he contends, perils threaten his congregation here and he may abandon his scientific researches and hasten back to Zion City.

No less a personage than Almee Semple McPherson plans an invasion of Zion City during the absence of the great overseer, with the avowed intention of "driving the devil" out of that supposedly sanctified city on the North Shore.

Miss Esie Binkley Lucy, an able lieutenant of Mrs. McPherson, is to proceed her general into Zion City to conduct "Four Square Gospel revival services" each Tuesday and Friday night from the 15th to the 25th inst. Later Mrs. McPherson herself may enter the campaign.

ELEVEN DIE IN ITALIAN AVALANCHE

Many Injured, Houses Demolished and Fast Train Wrecked by Earth Slide

ANCONA (Italy) May 10. (AP)—An avalanche caused eleven deaths near here last night.

Three persons were killed and eighteen injured when the fast night train collided with a large pile of earth which completely blocked the railroad tracks between Cupra Marittima and Grottammare near here.

The avalanche, which was caused by recent heavy rains, also demolished nine houses and six bodies were taken from them.

Two children were killed in accidents due to the avalanche. There were eleven persons injured, seriously enough to be taken to hospitals in different towns.

Hays Film Talk Cheered on Liner

S.S. BERENGARIA, May 10. (AP)—Six hundred passengers aboard this steamer bound for New York applauded enthusiastically on remarks in a speech made at the ship's concert last night by Will Hays, returning from successful negotiations regarding American films with the French authorities. He referred to the motion pictures as a universal language.

"When men understand each other," he said, "they cannot hate. When they do not hate they will not make war."

He went on to say "the organized film industry in America will use the pictures for promotion of international sympathy in an earnest endeavor to create world peace."

Son of Angeleno Drowns in China

WASHINGTON, May 10. (AP)—The death of Melvin J. Davies, second-class seaman, drowned in the Yangtze River, was reported to the Navy Department today by the commanding officer of the Chinese river gunboat Guam. The body has been recovered and investigation into the accident is being conducted.

Davies' mother, Mrs. Mary Miller, lives in Los Angeles.

CAROL ILL IN ENGLISH RESIDENCE

Former Rumanian Prince Suffering from Severe Chills and Fever

LONDON, May 10. (AP)—Prince Carol of Rumania was said tonight to be confined to his bed with chills and fever while the British government had made it clear that it expects him to leave the country by Monday because of his violation of hospitality by intrigue which sought for him the throne of Rumania.

Announcement from the home of M. Joneson, Godstone Surrey, where the Prince has been visiting for the past week, said that Carol had a high temperature.

Sir William Joynton-Hicks, Home Secretary, today announced in the House of Commons that he hoped that the former Crown Prince would have left English soil by Monday. This was taken to indicate that Carol's plan to be allowed to remain, coupled with his promise of good behavior in the future, had been in vain.

Carol's activities in France never amounted to what might be interpreted as abuse of hospitality. Only two interviews were given by him to newspaper men in his two years' residence in this country and these were carefully worded and non-committal.

Panel Exhausted in Unionist Trial

In four days 101 prospective jurors have been examined. The men on trial are Frank Brown, Robert Burton and William Allen, union officials, and Earl Parente, a union molder. They are accused to have shot down Frank Tanner, clerk for an American-plan foundry, February 11, 1927.

SUICIDE BLAMES AIR CRASH

NEW YORK, May 10. (Exclusive)—Unwilling to live longer without "my sweetheart," unnamed in numerous notes of farewell she left scattered around, but identified by the dozens of pictures and newspaper clippings she had collected, telling of his tragic death last Friday, Jean Le Brun, 30 years of age, an actress, killed herself by inhaling gas today.

Tacked up on the walls and lying loose around the room were scores of pictures of Leonard W. Bonney, millionaire aviator-inventor, who, with her looking on, crashed to his death last week in the initial test flight of the Bonney Quill, a nine-cylinder-motored plane of his own invention modeled on the lines of a seagull.

To Dr. Irving Rothstein, a dentist and long-time friend of Miss Le Brun, she had confided that she was madly in love with an aviator, married. Bonney three years ago married Miss Flora McDonald, daughter of James A. McDonald, one-time partner of the late Senator Clark, Montana mining king.

Miss Le Brun left notes, all on the stationery of a Detroit hotel, to her brother, Dr. H. M. Tigert of Nashville, Tenn., and to her 10-year-old daughter, May Rhea Cooper, also of Nashville. She is believed to be the sister of James Tigert, Federal Commissioner of Education, in Washington, D. C., to whom another note was addressed. Haines.

Science adds a welcome new value to Armstrong Floors

Accolac finish—beauty-giving, labor-saving—features NEW patterns now on display
FORGET that floors ever lacked color and interest. Forget, too, that it was ever a task to keep floors presentable. Today local stores offer a Spring Display of the new Armstrong's Linoleum with an added feature—a lacquer finish known as Accolac.

This Accolac finish—a scientific help in caring for your floors—gives to Armstrong patterns the aristocratic, well-cared-for glow of hand-rubbed furniture. More, Accolac forms a tough, durable protection over the beauty of the linoleum. And—what is still more—Accolac stops the dirt.

Dust now gets no deeper than the surface; swept away at the first stroke of brush or mop. Waxing, too, is less troublesome. Over Accolac, wax spreads evenly; polishes quickly.

Thus, not only have Armstrong's designers created new and strikingly beautiful floor effects, but science has come out of the laboratory to keep them beautiful.

"ARABESQ . . . that's something NEW, isn't it?"
Arabesq—Armstrong's different floor—is indeed new. Madam. Charming designs so cleverly applied over a rich inlaid marble base that the linoleum itself becomes a part of the pretty pattern.

Fewer things newer in floors. Fewer things prettier. And certainly, fewer things less expensive. Accolac? Yes, indeed! Armstrong's Arabesq Pattern No. 9320.

CULVER VALLEY

"Los Angeles' Midway to the Sea"

THE NATURAL TREND of population in metropolitan Los Angeles is toward the sea.

This is in harmony with man's nature and with all history.

The great cities of the old world--cities of today as well as of yesterday--owe their supremacy to advantages born of the sea.

For similar reasons the major cities of America have developed at the water's edge.

The seas are ageless. They are the source of life--the perpetual, irresistible lure of all the tribes of men.

At first the Mediterranean Sea was the main highway of civilization and world commerce. But time favored the bold peoples of the chill North Sea, who, in turn, lost to the more genial Britain, Queen of the Atlantic.

Now, America has marched across a continent to spread her banners over the mighty Pacific.

This limitless expanse of water is our "Broadway" of the future. It is more than that. It is the great, vital magnet which will continue through the ages to draw population from the hot, dusty interiors to the cool and salubrious shore.

Los Angeles' growth toward the sea is natural and inevitable.

In that direction lie comfort, vitality, health, pleasure and certainty of future values--safety for the investor.

Land near the seashore is the most desirable in California.

Such land is valuable in proportion to its accessibility; and nothing is more certain than that its value will increase indefinitely with the growth of population and improvement of highways.

Other sections may have their day of ascendancy as they will have their day of obsolescence; but the seashore is changeless.

The lure of boat and wave, the invigorating tang of the clean sea air, affects every generation and overcomes every obstacle to its enjoyment.

To see this principle in human life at work, you have only to observe the growth of Los Angeles from year to year. There has been a steady march toward the harbor for industrial locations and toward Santa Monica Bay for residence and recreation.

The Culver Valley is Los Angeles' seaward path of least resistance. It is the shortest way to the most accessible seashore in Southern California.

The Valley is becoming a close network of major highways with the sea as their objective. It is sure to become the most densely populated area of the metropolis. It is the Valley of Destiny.

You will do well to study this sea-arm valley and its future, now, while great enterprises are in the bud.

Drive down and "sea for yourself."

ASSESSOR HAS NEW SYSTEM

Adopts Policy to Fit Into Flood Emergency

Relies Upon Los Angeles to Pay Property Tax

Santa Clara Valley Folk to be Protected

VENTURA, May 10.—The policy which County Assessor Will M. Reese will pursue this year in assessing the property in the Santa Clara Valley flood area today was announced by him following a conference with the Board of Supervisors.

In getting the policy of assessing, Mr. Reese said he had first sought the opinion of various prominent attorneys regarding the matter. His announcement follows:

The law specifically says that property must be assessed as it was on the first Monday in March. The first Monday in March fell on the 5th, and the flood, occurred on the 13th of March, therefore, to strike any property on the assessment list would not be legal.

Another point is that each school district has obligations to meet, such as retirement of bonds, bond interest and expenses, and if the assessment in the district were lowered, then to meet the obligations of the district, the rate of taxation must be raised or the rate of taxation in such district be increased.

From every present indication Los Angeles will make reparation of the flood damage and will meet the obligations of the district, but if there was insurance collected the owner had money with which to pay the taxes, and assessments have been made.

The proposed procedure was unanimously approved by the Supervisors, and it was practically agreed by the board and the Assessor that if necessary the rate of taxation could be made later by the County Board of Equalization, which meets to consider such matters after the assessment rolls are closed.

Molecule Count
Simple Matter,
Millikan Says

PASADENA, May 10.—It is easier to count accurately the 37,000,000,000,000,000 molecules in each cubic foot of air than to count the inhabitants of Los Angeles, according to Dr. Robert A. Millikan, who discussed "The Molecule Count" at the public lecture to-morrow night in the Norman Bridge Laboratory of Physics, California Institute of Technology.

Dr. Millikan won the 1923 Nobel prize for his discovery of a method to count molecules despite the fact that they are moving so rapidly in all directions with the velocities of rifle bullets. A number of experiments will be demonstrated.

State History in Pageantry

AZUSA, May 10.—With 1000 pupils participating, the seventh annual May festival will be held at the Intermediate school grounds here Friday starting at 1:30 p. m.

The program will be opened with selections by the intermediate school band.

W. H. Abner, eighth-grade student, will preside as Queen of the May, Miss California.

The outstanding feature of the afternoon will be an elaborate pageant, depicting the history of California, written, directed, costumed and produced by the teachers and pupils of the city schools.

At the sound of a trumpet the heralds and flower girls will appear, followed by the May Queen, Miss California, and a multitude of attendants, representing California poppies. After the crowning of the Queen 200 Indians with tomahawks in one hand and bow in the other, but are persuaded by the first priests to give up their tomahawks for implements of agriculture.

Then come the days of the dunes and the ranches, who live again before Miss California.

The "dunes" with their covered wagons, pecks, shovels and gold pans, appear to be followed by the agricultural epoch. First, the fields of wheat, and finally the orange groves with their smudge pots, red, lady bugs, rain and sunshine and finally the tourists come from all parts of the East, the orange groves are subdivided to make homes for the newcomers, building up the country and assisting in maintaining modern public schools.

Finally all the children appear to pay honor to Miss California, singing "I Love You, California," and closing with a salute to the flag of the United States.

GLENDALE, May 10.—Robert Jensen, veteran Glendale showman, today announced that he had leased the Glendale Theater on South Brand Boulevard and that he would take over the showhouse on June 1 from its present manager, William E. Howe. The lease on the property was negotiated with Mrs. Louise T. Goodwin of Pasadena, the owner of the building.

Jensen and his father, Henry C. Jensen, in 1913 opened the first theater in Glendale, located on North Brand Boulevard, later selling out their interests to the West Coast organization, and since then the Jensen family have operated the theater in many other Southern California cities.

Jury Says Shooting of Bandit Tuesday Night Was Justifiable

LONG BEACH, May 10.—After listening for a short time to the testimony of witnesses, a Coroner's jury rendered a verdict of justifiable killing this morning in the case of Lewis Lloyd, bandit, shot and killed by Detective Sergeant Hanners and Deputy Coroner Monfort, in the year of a grocery store which, police say, was about to hold up and rob. The inquest, conducted by Deputy Coroner Monfort, was held at the Coroner's office.

Hold-up victims from various parts of the city identified the body of the bandit as that of one of two bandits who robbed them during the past two weeks. A bullet wound in Lloyd's leg, thought at first to have been inflicted by the police who killed him, was sustained a week earlier in San Diego when Lloyd engaged in a gun battle with police.

It was testified the dead man is said to have a brother, known as Joseph Lloyd, now in jail at San Diego in connection with a shooting affray there in which Lloyd's alleged pal, George Proffert, was wounded.

Chaffey District Executive
Warns of Overcrowding

Three Recommendations to Trustees Submitted

Principal Hints Adoption of New 6-4-4 Scheme

ONTARIO, May 10.—Paced with the necessity of providing greater facilities to care for the rapidly increasing enrollment in public schools of Chaffey Union High School district, Merion E. Hill, principal at Chaffey Union High School, has offered three recommendations to the board of school trustees, which he carried out last week.

Part-time education and department of junior high school education. The fifth department should be created to meet the growing needs at Fontana, at Upland and at other centers interested in junior high school development, all within Chaffey district, according to Prof. Hill.

Second recommendation, that the present courses of study be reorganized and that the courses of study eventually include junior high schools, senior high school, industrial high school for foreign groups and for adults.

The third recommendation is the more wider in its scope and suggests an extensive program of buildings, which if carried out will provide for the school system's growth in the coming years.

The recommendation includes adoption of a building program to erect a girls' gymnasium, library, junior college building, industrial high school for foreign pupils and adults; appointment of an architect to prepare plans for the new building; and the formation of a committee to estimate the amount of bond issue needed to effect the program.

Prof. Hill intimated that there is a strong tendency at the present time to recognize the school system on a 6-4-4 basis. This plan is for elementary schools to include the first six grades; junior high schools to include grades seven to ten and a new junior college to include grades eleven to fourteen. Such a plan would be a radical departure from the present school system.

Prof. Hill said that the school board members have not committed themselves yet on the recommendations.

VALLEY WANTS AIRPORT

Pasadena Chamber Urges County Officials to Buy
El Monte Field to Serve Eastern Section

PASADENA, May 10.—In the belief that the eastern and northern part of the county is in need of an adequate airport, the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce submitted a petition to the Board of County Supervisors urging the county officials to purchase the El Monte airport site.

The letter, as dictated by William Dunkley, Chamber of Commerce secretary, follows:

"The Pasadena Chamber of Commerce believes that some provision should be made for a county airport site in the immediate future."

"This organization has indicated the El Monte airport site of 900 acres because it is the most practicable and feasible site for an airport serving all communities in the eastern end of the county as well as Los Angeles."

"The site could be leased to the city of Los Angeles, or it could be operated as a county airport. A section such as Pasadena requires an airport to keep pace with the rapid development in commercial aviation."

"The Allied Chambers of Commerce of the Pasadena Valley are behind this city in the endeavor to have the El Monte site. At least two of the Supervisors are reported to favor the purchase of the property by the county."

When the Sheriff found more than a thousand Mexicans gathered at the Martinez pool hall at Westmoreland he entered and announced that no more meetings of foreigners were to be permitted in the Imperial Valley due to the tense labor situation. When he advised the laborers to disperse he was set upon and thrown out. Gillett returned with a squad of deputies, arrested five Mexicans and drove out the crowd.

A majority of the men taken in custody were found in the Westmoreland area, where it was asserted by the officers they were found haranguing groups of workers. Thirty-seven of the number were held on charges of seditious conspiracy.

At the conclusion of the business session this afternoon the Rev. H. B. Burr, pastor of the Oranoga Congregational Church in South Pasadena, addressed the delegates on "The Church and Its Work." The annual banquet tonight concluded the formal convention program.

With the March 10th anniversary of the founding of the city, the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce is celebrating the city's birthday. For all at all ages, the city is celebrating its birthday. For all at all ages, the city is celebrating its birthday.

SHELL UNION IN ANNUAL REPORT

Net Profits of Oil Company and Branches Drop

Decrease from 1926 Figures Set at $20,204,051

Amount Available for Common Stock $1.09 a Share

Net earnings of the Shell Union Oil Corporation and subsidiary companies for the year ended December 31, last, amounted to $11,314,614 after all charges, including taxes, depletion and depreciation, as compared with $31,518,965 for 1926, a decrease of $20,204,051, or more than 44 per cent. according to the annual report just mailed to stockholders.

After preferred dividends there remained available for common stock $10,963,844.35, or $1.09 a share on the 10,000,000 shares of stock outstanding, as against $3.08 a share in 1926 on the same capitalization.

The charge-off for depreciation, depletion, drilling expenses and abandonment was increased from $28,230,574.39 in 1926 to $33,471,230.56, a gain of $5,240,656.17. In addition to this write-off a reserve of $5,000,000 was set aside for special depreciation if required. This is in line with the regular policy of the company for a number of years passed. Surplus of the company was reduced $4,600,214.57, partly for dividend purposes and partly on account of a premium of $1,623,458.92 paid to retire preferred stock. Surplus at the close of 1927 stood at $30,628,357.57.

Sales of the company for the year increased approximately 10 per cent, but decreased in value from $149,438,081 in 1926 to $140,325,813 in 1927, a drop of $9,112,268, or approximately 6 per cent. Daily production of all Shell companies on December 31 was 107,999 barrels net, as against 103,864 barrels daily the year previous.

While subsidiary companies were following the conservation program until approximately 70,000 barrels daily production was shut in, new deep sand discovered at Signal Hill, opening of new fields in the Marshall district and holdings in newly developed areas in West Texas have materially increased the Shell production power.

Current assets of the company at the close of the year amounted to $91,098,153.56, as against $61,971,272. This is largely due to an increase of $36,000,000 in short-term and demand loans outstanding. Current liabilities amounted to $18,528,123.36, and in 1926, $17,955,369. Total assets aggregated $456,813,483.81, as compared with $379,800,239 at the close of 1926.

Pickwick Stages Income Holds Up

Second-quarter earnings of the Pickwick Corporation are running well over the same period of 1927, and first-quarter earnings, which are not yet available for publication, were considerably ahead of the like period in 1927, C. F. Wren, president, declared yesterday.

The Pickwick Corporation is a holding company for the Pickwick Stages System and affiliated companies operating out of California as far east as Indiana.

Mr. Wren is of the opinion that 1928 earnings will continue at this higher level and gain substantially over those of 1927, which amounted to $420,648, or four and a half times dividend requirements. He will leave for the East Saturday to complete details of recent consultations with Middle West stage systems.

STATE OIL LID BULGING

Development of Sealiff and Potrero Fields Puts Barrier on Curtailment Program

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

California oil men are having a difficult struggle to keep their resolution to curtail California's oil output. The drastic closing-in program of a month ago, which resulted in running the total shut-in production of the State up to 135,000 barrels, and withdrew approximately 75,000 barrels from the current daily output of the State, still failed to curb the upward climb, and from present indications, oil men expect to see the present daily output of about 626,000 barrels per day substantially increased unless some new avenue of curtailment is discovered.

The principal barrier in the way of output reduction is the deep zone at Signal Hill, but this has been figured in the experts' calculations, and they are more worried over the possible development of fields like Sealiff and Potrero than the new production of any of the present major fields such as Signal Hill and Ventura.

Sealiff at present seems to hold the most immediate threat, and with the completion of the C.G.M.O. well in that field two days ago for a daily production of well in excess of the possibility is seen of a development campaign which may make Sealiff a real factor in the State's petroleum production.

The M.K.T. syndicate is scheduled to begin a test of the southern outcrop of the Ventura avenue field today, according to field reports. The M.K.T. well is said to have gone through enough oil sand to make it a likely prospect, and it is being watched with deep interest by the petroleum companies.

The extra dividend is payable July 3 and the regular common dividend on June 12, both to stock of record May 18. Regular dividends on senior securities also were authorized.

Extra Dividend Declared by Auto Company

The extra dividend is payable July 3 and the regular common dividend on June 12, both to stock of record May 18. Regular dividends on senior securities also were authorized.

Steel Orders Show Decline

NEW YORK, May 10. (AP)—Unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation on April 30 amounted to $572,123 tons, a decrease of $63,073 tons compared with the end of the preceding month.

A sharp contraction in unfilled tonnage figures had been expected in financial circles following a slackening of new buying and a stepping-down of operations to meet the curtailment of capacity. The decline, however, was larger than had been generally predicted, and carried the total back below the level of last December.

It was the second consecutive decrease, the total on March 31 having dropped to 4,335,208 from 4,398,188 at the close of the preceding month.

Bolsa Chica Oil Sales Sharply Up

Production and sales of crude oil during the month of April by the Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation amounted to 92,273 barrels, compared with 45,544 barrels for the corresponding month last year, officials of the company reported yesterday.

Sales for the month totaled approximately 80,000 barrels. Well delivered to the absorption plant from wells at Long Beach in April amounted to 48,742,000 cubic feet as against 2,500,000 cubic feet for April, 1927.

The Highway Gasoline Company, owned and controlled by Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation, produced 125,000 barrels of casinghead gasoline in April from its own plant at Ventura avenue, and sales of 30,000,000 cubic feet of dry gas.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

(Copyright, 1928, New York Evening Post, Inc.)

LONDON, May 10. (By wireless).—The buoyancy of the markets was resumed today with Hudson Bay shares the outstanding feature of strength, due for the most part to buying from the United States and accompanying reports that oil deposits have been located on the California Petroleum Corp. shares were good, especially Mexican Eagles.

Artificial silks were strong, particularly Courtauld. In the mining section DeBeers was in the limelight as a result of American buying. Investments were steady, but quieter because of the growing belief that the New York bank rate will rise soon. It is believed that the dollar would decline further on account of the heavy investment in the United States in stock abroad, were it not for the rise in the banking rate.

THE STOCK MARKET

BY CHARLES A. DICE

Dividends are usually quoted as a certain percentage of par value or as a certain number of dollars per share. If a company whose shares have a par value of $100 pays 6 per cent, then the stockholder receives a dividend of $6 a share. If the shares are $80 par value, then he receives $3 a share. Shares without par value are always said to receive a certain number of dollars per share.

Dividends are usually paid quarterly, but among the railroad stocks the semiannual payment is relatively more frequent.

Dividends may be paid in cash, in property, by stock or by combination of any two or more of these methods. In case of cash payment the stockholder whose name is on the books of a company as of a specified date will receive a check for the amount of the dividend on the number of shares which appear in his name on the transfer books of the company.

When the position of a company is such that in the opinion of the board of directors it seems wise to conserve the cash of a company as a dividend, the directors may, instead of paying cash, issue a check for the amount of the dividend. These notes are negotiable and can be bought and sold or can be held to maturity.

STOCK DIVIDENDS

Dividends may also be paid by issuing a share of stock for each specified number of shares held by the stockholders. A 10 per cent stock dividend means that one new share is issued for each ten shares outstanding. The declaration of a stock dividend does not increase the net worth of the company. What happens is that ownership rights or shares of stock are represented by smaller units of the net worth of the company. Practically always, however, the price per share of the old stock rises on the news that a stock dividend is declared.

EXTRA DIVIDENDS

Extra dividends are sums paid in addition to the regular dividend. The fact that the directors of a corporation pay an "extra" dividend means that such a disbursement cannot be expected as a regular thing.

Stock dividends are commonly known as "extra dividends." The declaration of an extra dividend is generally known as "cutting a melon."

The board of directors has sole power to declare dividends, both the preferred and common stocks. Their dividend policy may be quite conservative or quite liberal. Many times, however, this latter policy does not last long before dividends must be reduced or suspended.

There is no way of compelling the directors to pay a dividend. There is, however, a legal limit which forbids dividends that impair the capital of the company.

Salt River Lamb Shipments High

PHOENIX, May 10. (Exclusive).—The spring lamb crop from the Salt River Valley this year is estimated at 100,000 head, with many more left for later shipment. Lambs have been reared in better largely as the usual winter and spring rains failed and the plains have been almost destitute of grass.

Kansas City sales have brought remarkably high prices. One shipment of 600 head by the White River Sheep Company of Flagstaff brought $17.50. Another shipment of 100 head by the same company brought $16.50.

Most of the breeding sheep have been shipped from this valley to the summer ranges in Northern Arizona. The winter season has been a favorable one with respect to lambs and wool, but has been attended by unusually high costs, due to the absence of desert feed. Local farmers entered upon their haying season with almost no forage left over from last year.

Fight Looms on Chicago Mart

CHICAGO, May 10. (Exclusive).—A movement to trade in stocks and bonds on the Chicago Board of Trade took form yesterday when a notice was posted on the trading floor that balloting on the proposal will be held the 25th inst. If carried, the plan would expand the market even further in the direction taken three years ago, when cotton was added to the grains in which the Board of Trade formerly dealt exclusively.

War between the Board of Trade and the Chicago Stock Exchange was immediately seen, since the exchange has adopted strict measures to prevent its members from trading in any other exchange in Illinois. State law allows any number of exchanges, but by-laws of the Chicago exchange provide a fine of $500 and suspension for sixty days for any member trading in any other exchange in the State. Continued trading at other markets results in automatic expulsion and suit for the fine.

SUBDIVIDERS SIGHT RELIEF

Amendment Written in Revenue Act to Clear Up Back Taxes on Real Estate Trusts

BY KABLE E. CROWE

Definite relief is in sight from the shadow of income tax litigation which has overhung the real-estate subdivision trusts in Southern California. Through the efforts of the banks, trust companies and real estate organizations in this city, an amendment has been written into the new Revenue Act that will close all past and pending tax cases, and will lay down a rule under which the taxability of subdivision trusts as pure trusts can be determined.

Passage of the Revenue Act with the inclusion of this amendment will dispose of claims made by the Treasury Department for back taxes on Southern California subdivision trusts involving about $100,000,000. There is every reason to believe that the amendment will be acceptable, according to L. H. Roseberry, vice-president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, who has just returned from Washington. Mr. Roseberry and his associates worked out the amendment in collaboration with representatives of the Treasury Department and counsel for the Senate Finance Committee.

Since the Treasury Department issued its latest ruling, the fourth since 1924, the tax status of subdivision trusts has been highly uncertain. This ruling, the one against which the new amendment in the Revenue Act is aimed, holds that real estate trusts are associations and taxable as corporations. The previous ruling, handed down in June, 1925, stated that the trust was not taxable to the trustee, but was taxable to the beneficiaries upon profits resulting from the sale of each individual lot, whether or not such profit was distributed.

Upon the 1925 interpretation, banks and trust companies in Los Angeles and elsewhere distributed large amounts of profits, upon which the beneficiaries paid their income taxes. This procedure was completely upset when the Treasury Department came along and announced that the trusts are taxable as corporations, and the trustees are personally liable for retroactive taxes to 1923, totaling about $100,000,000 in Southern California.

The uncertainty will be cleared up if the Revenue Act passes as reported out of the committee, and capital again will be free to flow, unhampered by fear of tax litigation, into the development of real estate subdivisions.

The chief provisions of the amendment as explained by Mr. Roseberry are its retroactive application and the formula for determining the tax liability of the trust.

"(1) Had a single trustee, and (2) was created and operated for the sole purpose of liquidating real property as a single venture with such powers of administration as are incidental thereto, including the acquisition, improvement, conservation, division and sale of such property) distributing the proceeds therefrom in due course to or for the benefit of the beneficiaries and discharging indebtedness secured by the trust property; and (3) has not made a return for the taxable year as an association."

Melon Sliced by Picture Unit

Announcement of a 35 per cent stock dividend to holders of the common stock of Loew's, Inc., owners of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, has been announced by Nicholas M. Schenk, according to information received from New York.

The stock dividend was voted in addition to the regular cash dividend which is payable on June 30, to stockholders of record June 20. The stock dividend will be payable on June 15 to stockholders of record June 9.

Possible Rescuer May Have Suffered Beating

Police Investigate Theory of Death Duel

Woman, Taken to Hospital, Resting Easily

A duel between two men may have followed the attack Wednesday afternoon on Mrs. Marie Billings' home, where she was first attacked, police believe.

Two automobiles, the investigators asserted, were seen to have been parked in front of Mrs. Billings' home, where she was first attacked. The theory entertained by the officers is that possibly a would-be rescuer of Mrs. Billings was also attacked and possibly slain, the body then being successfully hidden.

PIER SALE OFFER SHELVED

An offer made to the Playground and Recreation Department several months ago by the Electric Pier Company to sell the Sunset Pier, Venice, and its lease of 1450 feet of frontage for $250,000, was shelved by the commissioners yesterday on recommendation by Superintendent Hjelte. He reported that his investigation discloses the department has nothing to gain by the purchase.

Hjelte reported that the company still has a nineteen-year lease on the property, but that the City Attorney had rendered an opinion that the company has no right to the beach. It has a right, he reported, to the tide lands on which the pier stands and to the tide lands in front of the beach. Experts had informed him, he set forth, that depreciation of the pier property, built six years ago, amounts to 4 per cent annually, and at this rate the pier valuation will be only $10,000 at the expiration of the lease.

PROFITS SHOWN BY JULIAN OIL

In his letter, which was sent to all Julian stockholders, Lewis set forth the reorganization plan practically as published several months ago, and which, according to Mr. Carman, was worked out by the receivers and the company's heaviest creditors.

Lewis yesterday continued his argument to the jury in Superior Judge Doran's court, where he and seven others are on trial charged with wrecking the company by overhauling and selling spurious Julian stock.

ROLE OF MARTIN The indicted head of the company continued to paint a picture of himself in the role of the company's martyr and declared his entire time was taken up by "developing and pushing the company forward," despite the fact that the organization crashed after nearly 5,000,000 shares of spurious stock flooded the market.

T. P. Conroy, indicted secretary of the company, yesterday was accused by Judge Doran from further attendance at the trial and late yesterday left for Arizona, where he will attempt to regain his health, according to reports made to the court.

Conroy, Judge Doran was told, is suffering from tuberculosis and yesterday his fever is said to have reached 105 deg.

Lewis is expected to take most of today in his argument to the jury, and will be followed by Attorney John P. Murphy, representing Jack Bennett, Lewis's right-hand man. Other attorneys will follow in order.

CEMENT PLANT PLANS FOUGHT

(Continued from First Page) tion that the tract in which the plants are to be located shall not be subdivided or sold for residential purposes within 1000 feet of the exterior boundary line of the property covered by the petition.

Accompanying the company's application for the permit was a map showing the location of the two parcels for which the industrial zoning was asked. Parcel No. 1 is at the head of Santa Trini Canyon and Parcel No. 2 is at the head and includes part of Pulga Canyon. Both of these sites and canyons are located in the company's property which extends to the Pacific Ocean at Castle Rock, Bel-Air Bay and the Pacific Palisades.

The directors of the Los Angeles Mountain Park Company, which made the application for the zoning of the two parcels, are Alphonso E. Bell, Frank L. Melina, A. B. Rudolph, Louis A. Brunson, Eugene Overton, Mal A. Lloyd and Claude A. Wayne. Mr. Davies, however, in his protest filed with President Bonelli of the City Council declared that the company had the last proposed to be zoned to a syndicate which is preparing, if the permits are granted, to establish quarries and industrial plants.

Seven-Inch Fall Delays County Park Road Work; Light Rains Around City

Heavy snowfall in the area of Big Pine County Recreation Park is delaying the work of county surveyors assigned to the preliminary details on building the new Prairie Fork road. Seven inches of snow fell at the camp Tuesday and Wednesday, according to word received in Los Angeles yesterday.

The proposed road, when completed, is expected to be one of the finest scenic highways in Southern California. It will attain an altitude of 8000 feet, through some of the most rugged and picturesque regions in America.

Cloudy weather prevailed all over California yesterday with light rains reported from a few scattered points. San Francisco reported a trace of rain during the day, with rain falling at 5 p.m.

In Southern California Sierra Madre reported the heaviest rainfall with 2.2 of an inch. There was no rain at Los Angeles, but Long Beach, San Pedro and Inglewood all reported .04 of an inch, and Palmdale, with .04 of an inch. Porterville, with .04 of an inch, and Glendora, with .03 of an inch, were the only other points to report measurable rainfall.

No rain is expected today or tomorrow by the local office of the United States Weather Bureau.

A number of newspaper men, several ex-chiefs of police, half a dozen high ranking police officers, two judges and all vice-division squad leaders then took the stand, one after another, and testified for Jackson. They were headed by Chief of Police Davis.

Various police officers testified that the picture of slot machines printed by the tabloid had been taken in Central Police Station and that the newspaper's reporters had been in the station when the picture was taken.

The deposed vice commander was the last witness heard. In his own defense Chief Jackson said that he had taken command of the vice division at the request of the Chief of Police and had done everything within his power to enforce the law.

New Figures on Wilshire Church Interest Debt

The total bonded interest debt of the Wilshire Congregational Church on January 1, last, was $7300 and not $78,000 as was printed yesterday through a typographical error in an account of the proceedings of the Southern California Congregational Conference at Santa Ana.

The total outstanding bonds at that time as shown in a report prepared by the Congregational Extension Society and read at the conference, was $250,000, while the total indebtedness due, including bond interest, was approximately $40,000.

The church membership, under the guidance of Dr. Dyer and the trustees, has announced a campaign to raise by public subscription $50,000 "to save the church." The campaign is to begin next Sunday.

Members of the church, meeting last night, issued a statement to the effect that the action of the Southern California Congregational Conference in voting its willingness to take over and administer the property and services of the Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church, provided Dr. Dyer and other officers would resign, had acted in a way "utterly unthinkable to us."

The faith of the congregation in Dr. Dyer was reaffirmed in the statement and all elected officers were requested to "remain at their posts." The statement was signed by F. R. Hendrick, moderator, and William R. Kiam, clerk.

COUNSEL ARGUE

The argument between defense attorneys, associated with Alvin Karpis, and the prosecution, associated with Alvin Karpis, continued yesterday in the federal court here.

The defense attorneys also made a motion to dismiss the indictment against Karpis, claiming that the government had failed to prove its case.

The prosecution, however, argued that the government had met its burden of proof and that the indictment should stand.

The court is expected to render a decision on the motion to dismiss sometime this week.

The court is also expected to hear arguments on the issue of whether Karpis should be allowed to plead guilty to a lesser charge.

Telephone Craft

A new stock-swindling and bunko game costing Los Angeles investors thousands of dollars was revealed here yesterday when J. W. Buchanan, manager of the American Bankers' Association, issued a warning to stock buyers and revealed the methods used by the swindlers.

The general method of operation, the detective said, is as follows: The swindlers obtain the names of business men and tell their victim they can make him a good profit on a certain stock.

In about a week, the victim is called up and told that the New York office has made a mistake and sent a cashier's check for double the amount of the winnings. The swindler gives his own check for the difference and later finds that the cashier's check is fictitious. On the meantime his own check has been cashed.

HEALTH DIET ADVICE By Dr. Frank M. Cox

SKIN ELIMINATION FOR HEALTH

The skin has four important functions. It forms a protective covering for the body—keeping more delicate tissues from being injured—preventing poisons and disease germs from entering the body. It is an organ of feeling, covering sensory nerves. The skin also assists in regulating the heat of the body. The last but perhaps the most important duty which the skin performs is to assist the lungs and kidneys in excreting water from the body.

This throwing out of liquid in the form we know as sweat has as its object the elimination of toxins as well as a means through which excessive amounts of internal heat or radiation are eliminated.

On some portions of the body there are as many as 2500 openings, or pores, to the square inch of skin. These are the mouths of the sweat glands through which the sweat is poured out from the blood. One could live but a short time if the pores could be completely stopped so that the sweat, containing bodily wastes, could not be eliminated.

Those suffering from various disorders always have a definite odor to the skin, which varies according to the disease. These skin odors are especially strong if not enough baths are taken, as the poisons deposited upon the skin become foul and rancid and not only block the pores but are unquestionably to some extent reabsorbed.

When one understands the excretory functions of the skin, it is necessary to see how the skin must be kept healthy to insure general bodily health. It is also necessary that if the skin is stimulated to an unusual degree, its functions can be extraordinarily increased so that there will be what is called even "unnatural" but helpful throwing out of toxins.

The skin may then be considered as an instrument to be used in the cure of any disease caused by an excessive amount of bodily toxins. Physical culture exercises, with walking or running, will increase the circulation and produce greater skin elimination whether or not a perceptible sweating is experienced. Cold shower baths increase the loss of the skin through bringing more blood to the surface of the body, and by the effect of the cold water upon contracting the tiny muscles which open and close the pores. Temporary shock of the cold water serves as a means for excreting these skin muscles.

Baths taken with the body completely exposed to the sun's rays.

Graduation Dresses Simple and Inexpensive

By Florence La Gash

Let's younger sister was graduating from high school. The question of clothes was more important in her mind than anything else. She listened with amazement to her mother's tales of the way the high-school graduates dressed back in the "gay nineties." Dresses of silk, satin with long trains and much trimming were the order of the day, said her mother. Now the dresses were simple, wearable and usable long after the commencement festivities were over. Judith's dress was of handkerchief linen in white. It had a few hand-run tucks at neck line both in front and back. Her best friend's dress was linen also, with spoke hemstitching for the only trimming.

The custom of the baccalaureate sermon has been taken over by the high school. The two girls had chosen the popular prints for their outfits. Judith's was made with a pleated skirt, plain overblouse and coat of the skirt material. The other girl had her entire frock made of the print. In addition, there was a removable cape which could be attached at will. It made a costume which could be worn on cool days or warm. More than that, the cape could be discarded when the vogue was past. Both girls wore hats of straw. The flowing lines of the cape called for the hat with large brim, while Judith's trim jacket needed a close fitting hat.

Graduation festivities call for food and drink. Write to Nancy Page, care of this paper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope asking for her leaflet on "Beverages."

"Sailor's Choice," are the titles given one of several tropical fishes. It is a small panfish of the Atlantic Coast.

Q.—D. H. G. writes: "Please tell me why orange juice makes my feet and legs swell and pain me so. I am much overweight and took the orange juice for four or five days and lost ten pounds, but had to stop on account of this swelling and pain."

A.—The orange-juice fast is given to patients who have swollen hands and feet. You can rest assured that if you had continued your fast the swelling would have disappeared. The "crisis" period frequently arises on the third to fifth day of the fast, and often various symptoms are produced by the stirring up of the toxins in the blood stream, some of them being swellings or pain in those parts of the body where there has been large deposits of impurities. Try the fast again, and keep on fasting until you pass the crisis period.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

SOME DANGERS OF VACATION RESORTS

We are tempted to talk a lot about vacation simply because our mail contains so many references to "going away" this summer. The chief problem always in the selection of a vacation site is the all-important one of water and milk. In selecting a camp for your boy or girl, you cannot be too rigid in your requirements that the water supply be good and that the children will have good milk. Sometimes these matters are overlooked in the more flashy interests of horseback riding and the like.

For the baby, the necessity of having good water and milk is all that matters. Any vacation spot is a good one which is cool and which keeps these essentials in mind.

Vacationists who travel from place to place by motor cannot make use of a changing milk supply. However good the milk or water may be, the constant change from one kind of milk to another would be bound to offer difficulties. The use of either powdered, whole milk or canned evaporated milk does away with this problem. Water can always be boiled, and the addition of boiled water to either of these milks makes a good and acceptable food for the infant. If he is given these milks a week or more in advance of starting on the journey, the mother will learn the method of preparation and the baby will not be upset by them on the trip.

Being one of those mothers who preferred my own home always during the hot season, I am rather weak on the necessities for such auto travel. Perhaps no one other article strikes me as so absolutely essential as a covering for the baby to protect him from the bites of insects. Whatever else one has along, a mosquito netting of generous proportions should be included. The irritation of bites, not to mention the dangers of infection, is no small thing for a baby to overcome, and certainly one does not enter on a vacation in order to wrestle with avoidable ailments.

To go back to the first warning.

In selecting a home for the summer, the wisest policy one can follow is the precautionary one. Have the water supply tested. A well may be a picturesque but dangerously polluted possession. Find out before you arrive if it is safe water to drink. Find out if the water in which the children bathe is uncontaminated by sewage. Look up your milk supply and make sure of it before you move. We sound very like the knell of doom, but these are serious warnings, and now is the time, if ever, to utter them.

Even Baking
So often if we were a little more careful about the way we pour the batter in the layer cake tins we would have such a much better-looking cake. Fill the sides well and, if possible, leave a slight depression in the center. The middle of a cake always bakes first and in this manner a cake straight across the top is assured.

CONSTIPATION IS SOURCE OF DANGER

Science Says 90% Suffer From Intestinal Poisoning

The chances are nine to one you are suffering from the ill effects of constipation—medical science says 90% of modern city people are affected. You may not know the cause—your bowel movements may actually be regular. But in many cases they are incomplete, and decayed material remains in the intestine to poison the entire system. Headaches, lassitude, backache, sleeplessness, bad dreams, nervousness, loss of appetite, lowered vitality and increased susceptibility to serious diseases which may result in premature disability or death—this is the price of intestinal poisoning. Don't trifle with it!

Soft life and soft diet are the causes. Add bulk and roughage to your diet. Don't form the dangerous laxative habit—roughage is the natural cure. It protected primitive man and it will protect you. Natural 100% bran—Pillsbury's Health Bran—is best. Warning—be sure you get the right bran. When your doctor says, "Eat bran," he means a true 100% bran—Pillsbury's Health Bran. Because it is unrefined, uncooked and unadulterated, it really does the work—you get the full, gentle, natural laxative action of the unbroken flakes. Use it to prepare delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc.—recipes are on every package. Eat it some way three times a day.

SHE'S A CHAMPION HOUSEWIFE!

OUTDOORS, as well as in, Mrs. Gleener's home is the envy of the neighborhood—it is as neat as a new pin!

Yet she doesn't slave and scrub—she says she makes her housework easy by doing it the right way.

As an example, her method of cleaning up the porch and outside steps—where dirt is "ground in"—is a muscle-saver! This is what she does:

First, she sprinkles Gold Dust on grease spots and rubs them with hot water. Then she puts four tablespoons Gold Dust into a pail and adds it with hot water. She uses this solution over the porch scrubs with an old broom, rinses with clear, hot water.

Mrs. Gleener—and CHAMPION HOUSEWIVES everywhere—know that dish-washing is easier with Gold Dust—a dish mop.

CONVICTION FOR FORMER DEPUTY

Jury Finds Wallace Guilty in Orange Rum Plot

Ex-Prisoner, Also Accused, Given Acquittal

Separate Trials for Others Involved in Case

Ray Wallace, formerly a deputy sheriff of Orange county, was convicted and Claude Williams, once a prisoner and trusty in the jail, was acquitted of charges of conspiracy to possess and transport liquor by a jury yesterday in the court of United States District Judge Henning.

It was charged that the two, with two others, had conspired to take eighty cases of liquor from the Orange county Courthouse at Santa Ana, after the liquor had been moved there because of the dismantling of the old county jail. The two others, H. L. Eldred, a deputy county assessor, and Ora Roberts, a rancher near Santa Ana, were granted separate trials.

In the argument yesterday before the jury Otto Christensen, defense attorney for Williams, stated that Williams, then a prisoner in the jail, had merely done what he was told to do by Joe Irvine, then assistant jailer, and that he had no part in the asserted conspiracy. Irvine was the government's chief witness and it was charged by Christensen that he was the ring leader in the asserted conspiracy. The liquor had been seized in raids by Orange county officers.

Williams was ordered released and Wallace was allowed to go on his present bond, to appear for sentence on Monday.

Officers Seek Bob Roper Over Battery Charge

Warrant officers last night were seeking Bob Roper, promoter of a physical-culture studio, said to be a former contender for the heavyweight boxing championship, on a battery complaint sworn to by G. Carlyle, a business man.

Carlyle complained to City Prosecutor Eberhard that Roper entered his office in the Merritt Building, Tuesday afternoon and administered him a beating over a business deal. Immediately after the complaint was issued Municipal Judge Wilson signed a warrant for Roper's arrest and officers set out to locate him. He is expected to be brought before Judge Wilson today.

Roper, who was heavyweight champion of the A.E.P., having won the title in Paris during the World War, recently retired from the professional ring and established the Wilshire Physical Culture School at 408 South Western avenue, according to Prosecutor Eberhard.

PRICE OF BUMP VERDICT FAILS

Jury Disagrees Second Time in Suit Over Crack on Head

W. W. Feaster is still wondering whether the bump on the head he suffered several months ago is worth $50,000 to him.

A jury in Judge McComb's court, which heard his suit against the proprietors of a Hollywood hotel, disagreed yesterday. Last winter a jury in Judge Fleming's court disagreed.

Feaster says the ceiling of the hotel was so constructed that he could not help but bump his head while walking down a flight of stairs. When the case was before Judge Fleming, that jurist bumped his own head on the ceiling when he accompanied the jury to the hotel to look at it.

PHYSICIAN MAY GO TO ROCK PILE

Court Holds Decision in Assorted Irresponsible Father's Trial

Whether Dr. William Mark, 45 years of age, will be the first physician sentenced to the rock pile since it was established last year for irresponsible fathers, will be determined on June 11. Municipal Judge Frederickson decided yesterday when he took the matter under advisement.

A court order requiring the defendant to pay to his wife, Mrs. Ethel Mark, $500 North Coronado street, $100 a month for support of his two children, was entered a year ago, but he is $200 delinquent in his payments. Deputy City Prosecutor Coultas apprised the court.

Mark, 18, a cripple, testified his father had refused to give any money to the family and he frequently was forced to walk miles to school, lacking lunch money.

The physician, with offices in a downtown building denied the accusations of his wife and son. Mrs. Fanny Rosenfeld told Prosecutor Coultas that Dr. Mark remarked to her that he "would rather spend $10,000 on an attorney than give his family a red cent."

Girl Called in Suit of Father Against Mother

When Grace Stocks, 19 years of age, was forced to go on the witness stand yesterday in behalf of her father against her mother in his suit for divorce she failed as a material witness, for she "could not remember."

Harrison Stocks, wealthy Rosemead resident, through his attorney, A. P. Michael Marlan, brought suit against Mrs. Louise Stocks, represented by Attorneys Milton Cohen and R. D. Knickerbocker. Cruelly is charged.

Asked relative to her mother's language to her father she stammered, several times attempting to answer, then declared she "don't remember—I don't remember."

Once, she admitted, her mother left the house with a pistol in her pocket.

"I thought she might shoot my daddy," the girl asserted, "so I went out and stopped her. She gave me the gun."

The case is continued until Monday.

Protests Beat Children Out of Swimming Pool

There will be no joyful youngsters swimming in an Echo Park pool in hot weather, under a decision of the Board of Park Commissioners yesterday, when plans for such a pool were dropped at the request of residents in the park district, who declared the noise made by children using such a pool would disturb them.

Margaret Wall of 814 Park avenue spoke against the plan and was supported by other residents, who stated they represented the opinion of most of the residents. Nearly all those protesting were stout, middle-aged or elderly.

"In that case, I guess Westlake Park, which wants it, will get the pool," said President Griffith, who had mentioned a pool and place for aquatics at Echo Park under a five-year program of improvements.

Love Blamed in Youth's Suicide

Unreciprocated love for a school-girl sweetheart is believed to be the cause of the suicide last night of 16-year-old Wayne Shroger, 1331 West Seventeenth street, who shot himself in the head, dying instantly, according to police.

The boy, who lived with his grandmother, Mrs. Diamond Shroger, at the Seventeenth-street address, left a note telling of his love for a 14-year-old girl.

CAREWE WILL PRODUCE ABROAD

Noted Director to Make Films in Europe and Orient; Laemmle's Life Slogan to be Put Into Picture; Robert Armstrong Opposite Lina Basquette

To produce pictures abroad in different countries has been the dream of Carewe's life. This dream is about to be realized, according to word just received from him. Despite the difficulties and the gripes of making films outside of Hollywood, Carewe is willing to undertake the enterprise. What these grips and difficulties are, nobody knows better than himself, since it was he who directed "A Son of the Sahara" on the Sahara Desert, with Claire Windsor and Bert Lytell starred, a few years ago.

It is generally understood that Carewe will transplant his entire organization across the ocean, with London as his producing base for his next United Artists story, "Finn Fox" is writing the story, which will be his own original. He also has another story which he is admitting to Joseph Schenck and Carewe. Both have French backgrounds.

But Carewe is looking much further ahead than one story. He wants also to make a picture in India, and has Ezra Mir, talented Indian scholar, on his staff. Mir is doing considerable research work and Carewe plans to go to India after his second-made picture has been completed.

China also is on the Carewe list for film locales, and already he is searching for proper material.

Dolores Del Rio, it is known, is anxious to star in an oriental story, and she has a number of story themes in mind.

Miss Del Rio and Carewe are at present busy at star and director, respectively, in the making of "The Sign of the Cross," based on the Konrad Bercovici story.

Laemmle's Slogan in Pictures

Ever since Carl Laemmle, head of Universal, began writing maxims in his little copy book in school his favorite motto has been "It can be done." So what more natural than that, now that the motto has worked so well for him in the film world, he should use it in the picture embodying that optimistic theme?

It is just what he is going to do, according to Edward J. Montagne, scenario editor-in-chief of Universal. Montagne and Mann Packard, magazine writer, are collaborating on a story to be entitled "It Can Be Done," which will be one of the outstanding pictures of the coming year.

John McGowan Writes Another

Flash, the canine star of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, has every right to uphold all the standards of stars that he chances to meet. So distinguished an author as John McGowan, writer of "Excess Baggage," has just done a story concerning a vaudeville stunt dog which is to be used as a vehicle for the animal, according to announcement from Harry Rapf, the story editor, tentatively entitled "Greasepaint."

While no definite announcement as to director is made, it is understood that Chester Franklin will direct.

Sproul Elected Social Leader of Elks' Lodge

Concluding a five months' contest held by the Los Angeles Lodge of Elks to determine the social leadership of the lodge during the coming year, Joseph P. Sproul, winner of the election, was crowned monarch of the Elks and member of the Superior Court, tomorrow evening will be crowned monarch of the Elks in the presence of the Elks and their friends.

Elaborate ceremonies in the Elks' Temple will mark the coronation of Judge Sproul, which will take place at 10 o'clock, following a dinner-dance and entertainment.

Exalted Ruler John J. Doyle will make the presentation of emblems and engraved testimonials to be given the fourteen candidates entered in the race.

Judge Sproul's duties will include the arranging of social events for the lodge for 1935-36, the remaining thirteen candidates to act as his staff.

The candidates with their official titles and the committees they represent follow:

Joseph P. Sproul, candidate of the regular committee, winner of the contest and "Monarch of the Elks."

Frank A. Garrett, candidate of the drill team, head of the Elks' band.

John J. Doyle, candidate of the Elks' club, leader of the Elks' band.

JUDGE TRUMPS IN ON BRIDGE ROW

Finesse of Partner's Lead at Women's Card Party Leads Players, Diamonds and All, to Court; "Push" Brings $300 Award

Every bridge player has always known this was bound to happen sometime.

Mrs. Esther Lyon opened with a small spade. The dummy went down and showed spades king high. Declared played low from dummy, Mrs. Cenia Robinson, leader's partner, followed with a small spade, and the trick went to the jack from declarant's hand.

That was all right with everybody. But on the next spade trick, the king went on from the dummy, and Mrs. Robinson had to play her queen, having started on with only two. The battle was on.

"You will try to finesse your partner's lead, will you? Oh, you perfect ninnies," or words to that effect, was the response this trick adduced from Mrs. Lyon, according to the testimony before Judge Anderson, in the Superior Court yesterday. One thing led to another and Mrs. Lyon's remarks became really personal. Mrs. Robinson said, "She kept on taking and talking, and when I had played out all my cards she jumped up and I pushed her back."

"Didn't you hit her in the face," Mrs. Robinson was asked.

The witness admitted that this was a matter of interpretation. "But I call it a push," she declared.

Mrs. Robinson, as is frequently the case with ladies who play afternoon bridge, glittered with diamonds, and Mrs. Lyon said one of the stones cut her face. So she sued for $25,000 in damages. Mrs. Robinson countered with a cross-bill for $1000 for injuries to her arm.

Judge Anderson ruled that it probably was more than a "push," and awarded Mrs. Lyon $300. She was represented by Attorneys Milton Silverberg and Wilbert C. Hamilton, and Mrs. Robinson was championed by Attorney John J. Craig.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

AS THE "ROUGH RIDERS", WITH DETACHMENTS OF THE 1ST AND 10TH CAVALRY (REGULARS) ADVANCED UP THE HILL AT LAS GUASIMAS, THEY WERE MET BY A MURDEROUS FIRE FROM THE SPANISH RIFLEMEN HIDDEN IN THE UNDERBUSH. THE SPANISH WERE USING SMOKELESS POWDER, AND OUR MEN COULD NOT SEE THEIR FOES.

CLIMBING UP THE SLOPE, THE AMERICANS SUFFERED 40 OR 50 CASUALTIES. AMONG THE BADLY WOUNDED WAS EDWARD MARSHALL, A NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENT WHO HAD PLUCKILY ACCOMPANIED THE TROOPS INTO THE THICK OF THE FIGHT.

AT THE TOP OF THE HILL STOOD A SPANISH BLOCKHOUSE. LEUTENANT-COL.
